

Ryecroft Avenue

Miranda Hutton

A photographic exhibition exploring death and loss in a suburban house. Miranda Hutton's new body of work 'Ryecroft Avenue' has been made in response to the death of her father earlier in the year and the clearing and selling of his estate. The exhibition will be located in his house; her family home. The exhibition will also include 'the rooms project' – a body of work made between 2004 and 2016 which also considers ideas around place, absence and memory. #ryecroftave
